DBQ Practice · Thesis

PROMPT

Evaluate the extent to which differences in economy and religion shaped the development of the British colonial regions from 1607 to 1754.

Your task: Write a thesis statement that responds to the prompt. You may use the document on this page as a reference, but your thesis must address the colonial regions as a whole.

What earns the point: To earn the point, your thesis must make a historically defensible claim and establish a line of reasoning: it should answer the question and preview the reasons you would use to support it. It must be one or more sentences in one place, not just a restatement of the prompt.

John Winthrop, "A Model of Christian Charity," sermon written in 1630 as he led Puritan settlers to found the Massachusetts Bay Colony

God almighty in His most holy and wise providence hath so disposed of the condition of mankind, as in all times some must be rich, some poor, some high and eminent in power and dignity, others mean and in subjection.

For this end we must be knit together in this work as one man, we must entertain each other in brotherly affection, we must be willing to abridge ourselves of our superfluities for the supply of others' necessities.

[. . .]

For we must consider that we shall be as a city upon a hill, the eyes of all people are upon us. So that if we shall deal falsely with our God in this work we have undertaken and so cause Him to withdraw His present help from us, we shall be made a story and byword throughout the world.

[. . .]
