DBQ Practice · Contextualization

PROMPT

Evaluate the relative importance of the causes of the American Revolution from 1763 to 1776.

Your task: Write a contextualization paragraph (3–4 sentences) that you could use to open an essay on this prompt. You may use the document on this page as a reference.

What earns the point: To earn the point, describe a broader historical context relevant to the prompt: developments that happened before, during, or continued after 1763–1776 (for example, the French and Indian War or a century of colonial self-government). Explain how that context connects to the topic; a single phrase or reference is not enough.

Thomas Paine, Common Sense, pamphlet published in Philadelphia, January 1776

Every thing that is right or natural pleads for separation. The blood of the slain, the weeping voice of nature cries, 'Tis time to part. Even the distance at which the Almighty hath placed England and America, is a strong and natural proof, that the authority of the one, over the other, was never the design of Heaven.

Small islands not capable of protecting themselves, are the proper objects for kingdoms to take under their care; but there is something very absurd, in supposing a continent to be perpetually governed by an island. In no instance hath nature made the satellite larger than its primary planet, and as England and America, with respect to each other, reverses the common order of nature, it is evident they belong to different systems: England to Europe, America to itself.
