Era 12: Gilded Age

1877–1900 · APUSH Period 6 · Lessons 28–30

Name _____ Due _____

This is your study guide for the whole era. Complete each lesson section as you study it, using your class notes and textbook: read the AP topic(s) listed for the lesson in your textbook, define every term, person and event in your own words, then answer the Key Question in 3–5 sentences with specific evidence. Each lesson is checked and stamped in class; the whole guide is collected and graded at the end of the era. Before the end-of-era test: finish the Era Wrap-Up, then reread the whole guide. Fix or add anything in a different color.

DBQ Practice · Thesis

PROMPT

Evaluate the extent to which industrialization changed American society from 1865 to 1900.

Your task: Write a thesis statement that responds to the prompt. You may use the document on this page as a reference.

What earns the point: To earn the point, your thesis must make a historically defensible claim and establish a line of reasoning: it should answer the question and preview the reasons you would use to support it. It must be one or more sentences in one place, not just a restatement of the prompt.

Andrew Carnegie, "Wealth," North American Review, June 1889 (reprinted as "The Gospel of Wealth")

The problem of our age is the proper administration of wealth, so that the ties of brotherhood may still bind together the rich and poor in harmonious relationship.

This, then, is held to be the duty of the man of Wealth: First, to set an example of modest, unostentatious living, shunning display or extravagance; to provide moderately for the legitimate wants of those dependent upon him; and after doing so to consider all surplus revenues which come to him simply as trust funds, which he is called upon to administer, and strictly bound as a matter of duty to administer in the manner which, in his judgment, is best calculated to produce the most beneficial results for the community—the man of wealth thus becoming the mere agent and trustee for his poorer brethren, bringing to their service his superior wisdom, experience, and ability to administer, doing for them better than they would or could do for themselves.
