Royal Proclamation of 1763

King George III · October 7, 1763

Source: Royal Proclamation of October 7, 1763, text via the Avalon Project, Yale Law School. Public domain.

Issued by King George III at the end of the French and Indian War (Seven Years' War), the Proclamation reserved land west of the Appalachian Mountains for Native nations and forbade colonial settlement there. To the British government it was a cost-saving, stability-protecting measure. To many colonists — especially land speculators and frontier settlers — it was an unwelcome restriction on the very lands they thought they had fought to win, and it became one of the earliest grievances driving colonial resistance.

> Connect: British 'salutary neglect' before 1754 shaped colonial expectations. What changed after the war ended?

Key Passages

On Native lands

> And whereas it is just and reasonable, and essential to our Interest, and the Security of our Colonies, that the several Nations or Tribes of Indians with whom We are connected, and who live under our Protection, should not be molested or disturbed in the Possession of such Parts of Our Dominions and Territories as, not having been ceded to or purchased by Us, are reserved to them. or any of them, as their Hunting Grounds.

On the proclamation line

> And We do further declare it to be Our Royal Will and Pleasure, for the present as aforesaid, to reserve under our Sovereignty, Protection, and Dominion, for the use of the said Indians, … And We do hereby strictly forbid, on Pain of our Displeasure, all our loving Subjects from making any Purchases or Settlements whatever, or taking Possession of any of the Lands above reserved. without our especial leave and Licence for that Purpose first obtained.

On settlers already west of the line

> We do further strictly enjoin and require all Persons whatever who have either wilfully or inadvertently seated themselves upon any Lands within the Countries above described. … forthwith to remove themselves from such Settlements. … that no private Person do presume to make any purchase from the said Indians of any Lands reserved to the said Indians, … the same shall be Purchased only for Us, in our Name,

HIPP Analysis

Model answers fill the first three rows. Use them to explain the author's Purpose in the last row.

HIPP Element	Your Analysis
Historical Situation What was happening when this was written?	The French and Indian War (1754-63) had just ended; Britain gained land to the Appalachians and beyond, faced Pontiac's Rebellion, and carried a large war debt.
Intended Audience Who was the source written for?	British colonists and colonial governors (especially land speculators and frontier settlers), and the Native nations living west of the Appalachians.

HIPP Element	Your Analysis
Point of View Whose perspective? Whose is missing?	King George III and the British government, focused on imperial order and the cost of defending the frontier, not on the colonists' hopes for western land.
Purpose What did the author want to accomplish?

Analysis Prompts

1. SAQ practice (A·C·E): Identify ONE way the Proclamation contributed to colonial discontent.
2. What does the language about ‘Our loving Subjects’ suggest about the Crown’s view of the colonists?
3. Which colonial groups would have been most angered by the Proclamation? Why?

The Royal Proclamation of 1763

King George III · October 7, 1763

Source: Royal Proclamation of October 7, 1763, text via the Avalon Project, Yale Law School. Public domain. Non-contiguous passages are separated by [. . .]; shorter cuts inside a passage are marked with an ellipsis (. . .).

> After the French and Indian War, Britain reserved the land west of the Appalachians for Native nations and forbade colonial settlement there — an early grievance that angered land-hungry colonists.

Opening: the new governments

Whereas We have taken into Our Royal Consideration the extensive and valuable Acquisitions in America, secured to our Crown by the late Definitive Treaty of Peace, concluded at Paris. the 10th Day of February last; and being desirous that all Our loving Subjects, as well of our Kingdom as of our Colonies in America, may avail themselves with all convenient Speed, of the great Benefits and Advantages which must accrue therefrom to their Commerce, Manufactures, and Navigation, We have thought fit, with the Advice of our Privy Council. to issue this our Royal Proclamation, hereby to publish and declare to all our loving Subjects, that we have, with the Advice of our Said Privy Council, granted our Letters Patent, under our Great Seal of Great Britain, to erect, within the Countries and Islands ceded and confirmed to Us by the said Treaty, Four distinct and separate Governments, styled and called by the names of Quebec, East Florida, West Florida and Grenada, and limited and bounded as follows, viz.

[. . .]

Land for veterans of the late war

And Whereas, We are desirous, upon all occasions, to testify our Royal Sense and Approbation of the Conduct and bravery of the Officers and Soldiers of our Armies, and to reward the same, We do hereby command and impower our Governors of our said Three new Colonies, and all other our Governors of our several Provinces on the Continent of North America, to grant without Fee or Reward, to such reduced Officers as have served in North America during the late War, and to such Private Soldiers as have been or shall be disbanded in America, and are actually residing there, and shall personally apply for the same, the following Quantities of Lands, subject, at the Expiration of Ten Years, to the same Quit-Rents as other Lands are subject to in the Province within which they are granted, as also subject to the same Conditions of Cultivation and Improvement; viz.

[. . .]

On Native lands

And whereas it is just and reasonable, and essential to our Interest, and the Security of our Colonies, that the several Nations or Tribes of Indians with whom We are connected, and who live under our Protection, should not be molested or disturbed in the Possession of such Parts of Our Dominions and Territories as, not having been ceded to or purchased by Us, are reserved to them. or any of them, as their Hunting Grounds.

[. . .]

The proclamation line

And We do further declare it to be Our Royal Will and Pleasure, for the present as aforesaid, to reserve under our Sovereignty, Protection, and Dominion, for the use of the said Indians, all the Lands and Territories not included within the Limits of Our said Three new Governments, or within the Limits of the Territory granted to the Hudson’s Bay Company, as also all the Lands and Territories lying to the Westward of the Sources of the Rivers which fall into the Sea from the West and North West as aforesaid.

And We do hereby strictly forbid, on Pain of our Displeasure, all our loving Subjects from making any Purchases or Settlements whatever, or taking Possession of any of the Lands above reserved. without our especial leave and Licence for that Purpose first obtained.

On settlers already west of the line

And. We do further strictly enjoin and require all Persons whatever who have either wilfully or inadvertently seated themselves upon any Lands within the Countries above described. or upon any other Lands which, not having been ceded to or purchased by Us, are still reserved to the said Indians as aforesaid, forthwith to remove themselves from such Settlements.

On private purchases of Native land

And whereas great Frauds and Abuses have been committed in purchasing Lands of the Indians, to the great Prejudice of our Interests. and to the great Dissatisfaction of the said Indians: In order, therefore, to prevent such Irregularities for the future, and to the end that the Indians may be convinced of our Justice and determined Resolution to remove all reasonable Cause of Discontent, We do. with the Advice of our Privy Council strictly enjoin and require. that no private Person do presume to make any purchase from the said Indians of any Lands reserved to the said Indians, within those parts of our Colonies where, We have thought proper to allow Settlement: but that. if at any Time any of the Said Indians should be inclined to dispose of the said Lands, the same shall be Purchased only for Us, in our Name, at some public Meeting or Assembly of the said Indians, to be held for that Purpose by the Governor or Commander in Chief of our Colony respectively within which they shall lie:

[. . .]

Given at our Court at St. James’s the 7th Day of October 1763. in the Third Year of our Reign. GOD SAVE THE KING

Words to know

Definitive Treaty of Peace — the 1763 Treaty of Paris ending the French and Indian War

Privy Council — the king’s group of close official advisers

Letters Patent — an official royal document granting rights or creating a government ceded — formally given up by treaty

Quit-Rents — yearly payments owed to the Crown by landholders enjoin — officially order or command