FIGHTING ON OPPOSITE SIDES OF THE WORLD

A Two-Front War

Two Theaters of War

I

The European Theater

Against Nazi Germany and Italy—led with Britain and the Soviet Union.

II

The Pacific Theater

Against Japan—a naval and island war led largely by the U.S.

III

'Germany First'

The Allies agreed to defeat Hitler first, then focus on Japan.

The European Theater

- The Soviets broke the German advance at Stalingrad (1942–43).
- On D-Day (June 6, 1944), Allied forces under Eisenhower stormed Normandy.
- After the Battle of the Bulge, the Allies drove into Germany.

Victory in Europe

- Caught between the Soviets and the Western Allies, Germany collapsed.
- Hitler died as Berlin fell.
- Germany surrendered on V-E Day—May 8, 1945.

The Pacific Theater

- The Battle of Midway (1942) turned the tide against Japan.
- The U.S. used 'island hopping' to advance toward Japan.
- Battles like Iwo Jima and Okinawa were savage and costly.

SECTION

The War's End

The Atomic Bomb

- The secret Manhattan Project, led by Oppenheimer, built the atomic bomb.
- In August 1945, the U.S. dropped bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.
- Over 200,000 died—and the nuclear age began.

Japan Surrenders

- Facing atomic devastation and a Soviet declaration of war, Japan surrendered.
- Truman had made the fateful decision to use the bomb.
- V-J Day—the formal surrender came aboard the USS Missouri, September 2, 1945.

Who Fought

- The Tuskegee Airmen were among the most decorated pilots of the war.
- Navajo Code Talkers sent unbreakable messages in the Pacific.
- Women, Black, Latino, and Native American troops all served with distinction.

Who Fought the War

UNIT

442nd Regimental Combat Team

A unit of Japanese American soldiers, many with families held in internment camps. It fought in Italy and France and became one of the most decorated units for its size in U.S. history.

PERSON

George Patton

An aggressive U.S. general who led forces in North Africa and Sicily. After D-Day he commanded the Third Army across France and helped relieve Bastogne during the Battle of the Bulge.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

The Theaters of War

1. In Europe, Stalingrad, D-Day, and the Battle of the Bulge brought victory on V-E Day.
2. In the Pacific, Midway and island hopping pushed the U.S. toward Japan.
3. The atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki ended the war—and opened the nuclear age.
