ERA 19

The Cold War Begins

1945 – 1949

Origins · containment · the struggle for Europe

ESSENTIAL QUESTION

How did wartime allies become Cold War enemies—and how did the U.S. respond?

KEY TERMS

The Iron Curtain · containment · the Truman Doctrine · the Marshall Plan · the Berlin Airlift · NATO

ALIGNED TO

CED Topic 8.2 · AMSCO Ch. 8.2

FROM ALLIES TO ADVERSARIES

An Uneasy Peace

Two Superpowers Collide

I

Rival Systems

U.S. democracy and capitalism vs. Soviet communism.

II

A Broken Alliance

The wartime partnership dissolved amid mutual suspicion.

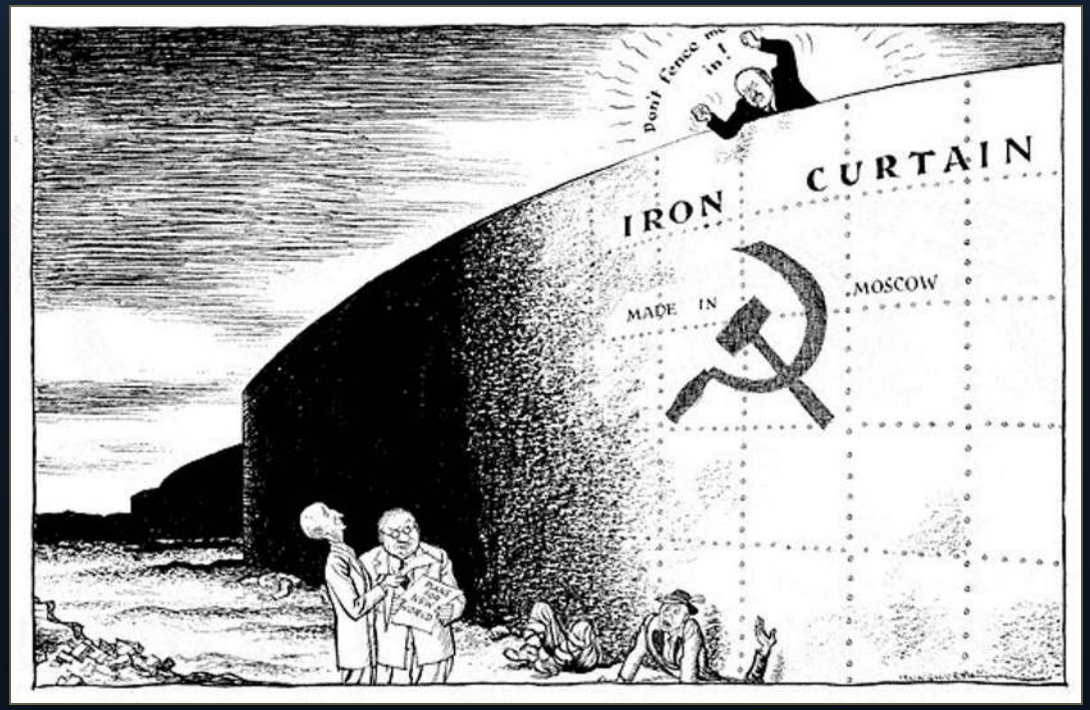

III

A New Kind of War

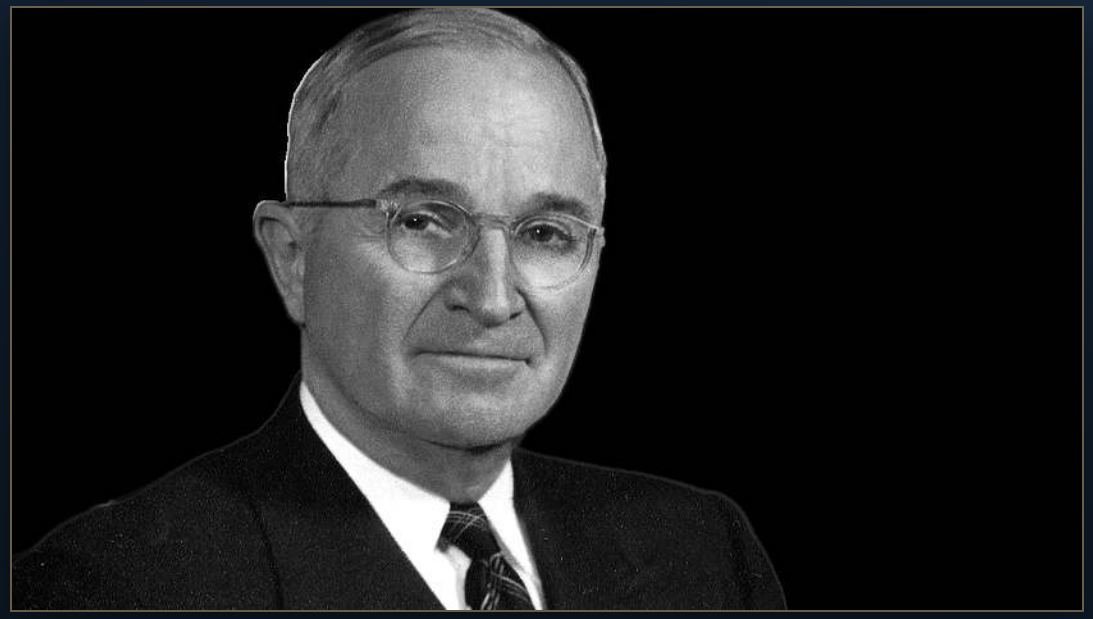

A tense global rivalry—fought with ideology, aid, and threats, not direct battle.

The Iron Curtain

- The Soviets installed communist governments across Eastern Europe—their 'satellite states.'
- In 1946, Winston Churchill warned that an 'Iron Curtain' had fallen across Europe.
- The continent was split into two hostile camps.

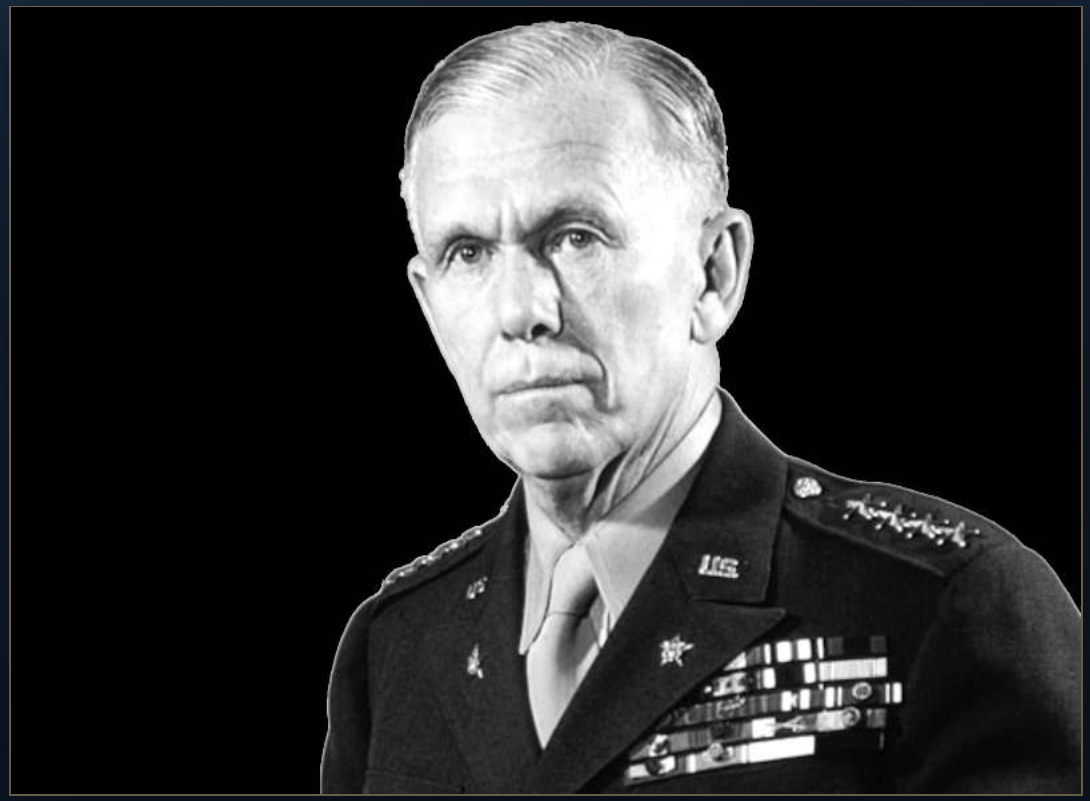

The Truman Doctrine

- In 1947, communists threatened Greece and Turkey.
- President Truman pledged to aid nations resisting communism.
- The Truman Doctrine made containment official U.S. policy.

The Marshall Plan

- War had left much of Europe in ruins—fertile ground for communism.
- The Marshall Plan sent over $13 billion to rebuild Western Europe.
- Prosperity, the U.S. believed, was the best defense against communism.

SECTION

Flashpoint Berlin

The Berlin Airlift

- In 1948, the Soviets blockaded West Berlin, deep inside East Germany.
- The U.S. and Britain flew in supplies for nearly a year—the Berlin Airlift.
- The Soviets backed down, and Berlin became a symbol of the Cold War.

NATO & a Divided World

- In 1949, the U.S. and its allies formed NATO—a military alliance.
- The Soviets later answered with the Warsaw Pact.
- The world settled into two rival, heavily armed blocs.

KEY TAKEAWAYS

The Cold War Begins

1. Ideological and strategic rivalry turned the U.S. and USSR into Cold War enemies behind an Iron Curtain.
2. The U.S. adopted containment—through the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan.
3. The Berlin Airlift and NATO hardened the division of Europe into two armed camps.

DISCUSS & APPLY

The Cold War Begins

AP HISTORICAL REASONING PRACTICE

CAUSATION

Explain how ideological and strategic differences turned the U.S. and USSR into Cold War rivals.

COMPARISON

Compare the Truman Doctrine and the Marshall Plan as tools of containment.

CONTINUITY & CHANGE

How did containment mark a break from earlier American isolationism?

Up next — Lesson 46: The Cold War Turns Hot (Korea & the Red Scare)